

Rosi Amador was raised by performer parents who passed on their love of Latin American rhythms and musical styles. In 1984, she founded the award-winning Latin band Flor de Caña, which she managed for a decade. In 1994, she and Brian founded Sol y Canto. Rosi also does bilingual voice-overs and her voice can be heard in Spanish on all Motorola and Blackberry phones.